

State says 'no more deadlines' for the EOC

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) will not be given another deadline to pay money it owes utility companies from the home energy assistance program, but what actions will be taken have not yet been determined, according to a spokesman for the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

The DCCA gave money to the EOC to help qualifying low-income residents pay their heating bills from last winter, but the EOC failed to pay nearly $200,000 of the bills.

Tom Laue, manager of the communications office for DCCA, explained that EOC missed a second deadline of Sept. 30 to pay the bills and he stated, "We are looking at a number of possible alternatives to assure that the utility companies will be paid. This puts us in a position to sort through our options. The director has not yet settled on or sorted through those options."

Laue said utility companies should bear with the program. "We are very much aware of the plight of the utilities. The only questions are how to pay (the utility bills) and when."

Laue said that since the DCCA put the pressure on the EOC to pay the utility bills, only $13,160 of the nearly $250,000 owed to utilities has been paid. That payment reduced the bill to Union Electric from $54,420 to $41,260, but left the largest bill, a $185,027 bill to Illinois Power Co., unpaid. There also are some smaller bills owed to smaller companies who supplied heating fuel to homes.

Laue said the DCCA has been funding both the weatherization program, in which elderly persons have their homes improved for greater heating efficiency, and the home energy assistance program. The EOC has been the administrative agency for those funds in Madison County.

EOC Executive Director Reuben Williams was out of town earlier this week and unavailable for comment, but has told other reporters that the energy assistance funds were transferred to fill shortages in the weatherization program funding.

The DCCA admits it withheld $100,000 of weatherization funds in June when it was discovered that 90 percent of the homes repaired under the program did not meet the program's standards when completed.

However, the $100,000 withheld and the $13,160 paid to Union Electric total much less than the $316,360 in energy assistance grants given the EOC by DCCA, and allegedly transferred into the weatherization program, Laue said.

DCCA gave the Madison County agency $280,945 for energy assistance April 11 and then four smaller payments totaling $35,315 between then and June 28. In addition, weatherization grants from the DCCA to the EOC totaled $189,885 April 11 and $77,000 May 25.

Where has the money gone? That is a question that may be answered for DCCA officials on Oct. 18, but the DCCA intends to keep the results secret for several weeks after that.

A preliminary audit by an independent auditor of the weatherization program funding has been completed and an "exit conference" has been arranged in the EOC's Alton office Oct. 18.

Laue said at that conference, "The audit firm will sit down with the EOC and our staff and look hard at what the audit firm has come up with." He said both sides will have an opportunity to point out any errors in the audit before a final audit report is prepared and made public several weeks later.

Once finalized, if the audit report will be very much public," Laue stated. Asked whether the governmental agencies might be in violation of the Illinois Open Meetings Act by discussing in a closed meeting the expenditures of public funds, Laue told the press, "You do what you have to do. We have no intention to make it an open meeting."

He said no actions are to be taken at the "informal meeting." The legality of another "informal meeting" of the EOC Board of Directors Sept. 8 was questioned by the Press-Record and Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith said it is his opinion that the meeting violated the Open Meetings Act.

Board Chairman John Ervin of Venice was questioned last week whether the board had approved reducing the work week of about 25 EOC employees to four days a week as an action of the board and declined to answer until the EOC board's meeting tonight. Asked if the action to cut employees by one day of work each week was decided upon by the board at its Sept. 8 closed meeting, Ervin said, "I wouldn't want to make a comment on that until the board meets next Thursday (tonight)."

All 134 GCS coke ovens now in use

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Full production of coke at Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. resumed yesterday as the stockpile of surplus coke at National Steel Corporation's Great Lakes subsidiary has been reduced, as have shipments of coke to Granite City Steel from there. Approximately 33 laid-off employees have been recalled to work at the coke ovens.

"Increased business at all of our divisions has produced a decreased demand for blast furnace coke," William D. Swanson, director of operations for Granite City Steel, told the Press-Record.

He said the production schedule at the A and B Batteries has been steadily increased from 90 pushes per day Sept.

...33 layoffs ended

21 to 134 pushes per day yesterday, the maximum output for the two batteries. Granite City Steel, however, is still not self-sufficient in coke production. At full production, about 53,000 tons of coke will be produced each month, about 60 percent of the anticipated monthly need. Swanson estimates the blast furnaces here will use 9,000 tons of coke in October. The remainder will continue to be shipped from Great Lakes to Granite City.

Coke is used as fuel in the two GCS blast furnaces.

Starting Sept. 21, three additional

Bus safety stressed

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

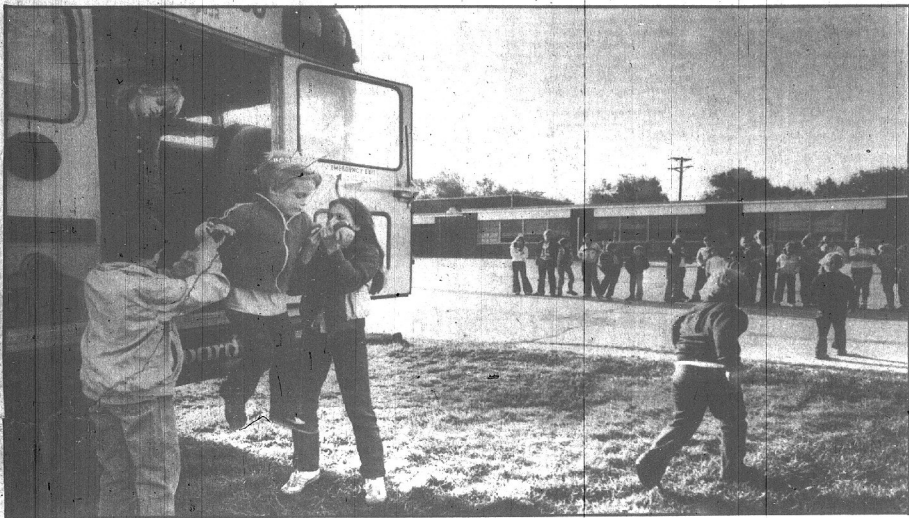

Granite City schools now teach four Rs—reading, riting, rithmetic, and riding—school bus riding, that is. R.W. Harmon and Sons, Inc., owner of the bus company that serves the Granite City School District, has been holding special bus evacuation drills throughout the district this week to impress young riders with the importance of safety. This is National Bus Safety Week (Oct. 2-8). Riders also were given a safety pamphlet explaining bus boarding and unloading rules, and a bus safety pin.

"The purpose of this safety education bulletin is to develop good bus rider attitude and acquaint parents with pupil transportation safety rules," reads the safety pamphlet. "Schools and parents, in partnership, can further enhance the objective of safe, adequate and efficient transportation to and from school."

One of the evacuation drills was conducted at Maryville School on Wednesday. Mrs. Barbara Smith, bus driver, conducted the drill. "Okay students, we're going to have an emergency bus evacuation. Please remain seated and quiet."

Mrs. Smith then directed the

Fatally wounded witness found

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
of the Press-Record

Pontoon Beach police and Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation officials are continuing their investigation into the homicide of a St. Louis man found lying on Illinois Route 111, Monday.

The victim, Jack George Turner, 35, of 1596 Cass St., St. Louis, was found lying face down on the northbound lanes of Illinois Route 111 at 10:30 a.m. Monday, approximately 200 feet north of the Pontoon Beach police station. A passing motorist, Gene Vincent of St. Louis, reported the incident to Pontoon Beach police.

Turner, a convicted con artist, was scheduled to go on trial next Friday, Oct. 14, in St. Louis Circuit Court on felony charges and was awaiting sentencing in St. Louis County for deceptive business practices, most of which stemmed from his bogus computer business.

Wednesday afternoon, St. Louis County Prosecuting Attorney George R. "Buzz" Westfall, whose office had planned to use Turner as a witness in a pending grand jury investigation in exchange for a lighter sentence, downplayed the homicide as a "professional hit."

"At this point, it's merely speculation on the part of the St. Louis media that Turner's death was related to the grand jury investigation," Westfall said.

"He may have been killed as a result of the investigation, but he may have also been killed by someone who he swindled money from," Westfall said. As part of the grand jury investigation, Turner was to name a St. Louis lawyer who was allegedly a partner in his deceptive business practices.

Ironically, Westfall said, when Turner agreed to cooperate with St.

Holiday closings Monday

Monday is Columbus Day and various government offices, financial institutions, post offices and schools will not be open in observance of the holiday.

All city offices in Granite City, Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach will be open for business, as the day is not a holiday for city workers in the Quad-Cities.

All county offices will be closed, as will the driver services facility of the Secretary of State. The state facility will be closed Saturday Oct. 8 and will reopen Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Township offices including Granite City, Venice, Nameoki and Chautauque will all be closed for the holiday.

Students throughout the Quad-City area will have the Monday holiday

West Granite wants full-time ambulance

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

When Granite City Alderman Lloyd Bailey, Fifth Ward, waited at the side of a stricken West Granite neighbor for an ambulance last month, he was upset when a fire truck arrived in its place.

Firefighters administered first aid until a city-operated ambulance reached the scene from its 23rd Street and Madison Avenue base at the main fire station.

According to Fire Chief Donald Parente, the West Granite fire truck has been substituting for the West Granite ambulance about half the time as the result of reduced ambulance manpower.

Parente expects the West Granite ambulance to remain unmanned at least 50 percent of the time next summer, when it may be staffed about three-fourths of the days.

"I can't understand why West Granite gets the ax every time," Bailey said. "It would think turn about is fair play. If they take one (ambulance) off here, take one off the other station."

Ambulances at the main fire station and at Fire House No. 3 on Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road remain staffed and ready for runs on all shifts. Fewer numbers of emergency medical technicians (EMT), however, sometime require firefighters to assist with ambulance runs at the Richmond station, according to Parente.

The fire chief said West Granite was selected for reduced service because fewer ambulance calls are made there than to the Richmond station, also referred to as the Nameoki station.

During July through September, 200 calls were made to the Richmond station while 32 calls were received by West Granite station, according to Parente. The Richmond site is located near area nursing homes, which often use ambulances for routine doctor appointments for infirmed clients.

Bailey said a significant percentage of the West Granite population is elderly residents, who probably could not afford to live in nursing homes, but still need nearby emergency assistance.

"It makes me mad and I can't help it," Bailey said of the ambulance situation.

Annual SIU-Shrine parade and football game Saturday

On Saturday, Oct. 8, the city of Carbondale and the campus of Southern Illinois University will be a little livelier when members of Shrine Temple come to town for the annual SIU-Shrine Parents Day Football Game.

This year, the 2 p.m. contest features the Salukis taking on Drake University. The day's activities begin with a large parade through the streets of Carbondale at 10 a.m. An added attraction to this year's parade will be a high school marching band competition, with the bands being judged during the parade. For each reserved advance ticket sold by a Shrine, $2 will be refunded to Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children is a network of 22 hospitals in the United States, Canada and Mexico; this network consists of 19 orthopedic hospitals and three burns institutes.

Since it's founding in 1922, all services at Shrine's

Hospitals have been absolutely free, which means they accept no insurance or money from the government. All funds to operate Shrine's Hospitals are raised by such activities as the SIU-Shrine Hospitals are

96% register with Selective Service

Selective Service has announced that 103,500 men registered during the most recent two-week reporting period, the highest registration period since January 1983.

This surge plus overall registration at 96 percent; registration of men born in 1963 or earlier, the first to be called if Congress ordered a return to a draft is more than 96 percent.

Since about 5,000 men turn 18 on a given day, approximately 30,000 represent late registrations; a late registrant is one who registers more than 31 days after his 18th birthday.

Selective Service officials attributed the rise in registration to several events:

Increased public awareness of the legal requirement to register.

College students registering with Selective Service as a condition of applying for federal student aid.

The new Job Training Partnership Act requirement that men of registration age must be registered to participate in Job Corps and other JTPA programs.

Increased direct mail contact with potential registrants using lists compiled from federal, state and commercial sources.

H. W. Walls, Selective Service region director for Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin, said he has noted a high level of patriotism among American youth.

Major General Turnage, director of Selective Service, said a return to a nationwide draft is highly unlikely because the armed forces are meeting their enlistment goals.

Gen. Turnage said, "President Reagan insured the success of the All Volunteer Force by persuading Congress to increase military pay and by restoring dignity and pride to military service."

The administration supports peacetime registration because it would save six weeks or more if a future emergency forced the nation to mobilize."

Sen. Percy introduces bill to preserve rural bus services

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) introduced legislation Monday, aimed at maintaining intercity bus service in several areas, which include Granite City.

The legislation would amend the Bus Regulatory Reform Act of 1982, which went into effect late last year.

"In the short time the Bus Act has been in effect, Illinois has lost service to at least 90 communities," Percy said. "Unless action is taken to assist the state in maintaining public transportation systems, intercity bus service in rural areas will be unnecessarily eliminated."

Percy's legislation stems from studies conducted by the Illinois Commerce Commission. It would amend four areas of the Bus Act. The first area would require bus companies to give states prior notice of routes they plan to abandon so that communities have the necessary time and information to recruit new carriers or to find the resources to maintain the existing carriers.

The second area amended would require the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) to consult with and advise states when new carriers apply for or are awarded grants of authority to operate within their boundaries. The third area would restore authority to the states to oversee the schedules of companies that provide minimum levels of service, so that ridership is not intentionally discouraged. Finally, it would reaffirm the legitimate right of the states to protect their transportation systems.

"The states, not bureaucrats in Washington, must have control over their public intercity transportation," Percy said. "We cannot sit back and hope for bus companies to complete abandoned routes, when it is already apparent that this is not likely to happen."

Percy pointed out that bus routes facing near-term abandonment are often the last form of public transportation available to the communities served by them.

"These communities are often largely made up of older citizens who have no other form of transportation," Percy said. "The loss of public transportation further isolates small towns and discourages economic development in these communities."

Senator Alan J. Dixon (D-Ill.) is a co-sponsor of Percy's bill. Companion legislation is expected to be introduced in the House by Representatives. By Rep. Paul Simon (D-Ill.) and Rep. Lynn Martin (R-Ill.). Martin is a member of the House Public Works and Transportation Committee, which has jurisdiction over bus regulation.

Patricia Polley hears President Reagan talk

Patricia Polley, town clerk of Chouteau Township, accompanied by her husband, Robert, were among nearly a thousand local government officials who heard President Ronald Reagan address the nation's biggest town meeting. The president spoke before the September conference of the National Association of Towns and Townships in Washington, D.C.

The president saluted the officials for the ways they have kept grassroots government strong in the communities they govern across the country. Reagan cited examples of volunteer projects and innovative leadership in towns and townships.

The Polleys also heard presentations by a number of other influential Americans at the educational conference. Featured speakers included Department of Housing and Urban Development Secretary Samuel R. Pierce Jr., Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Illinois), House Minority Leader Robert H. Michael of Illinois and Rep. Timothy J. Penny of Minnesota.

A reception on Capitol Hill gave them a chance to talk with senators and representatives. Activities throughout the conference allowed delegates to exchange local government ideas with each other.

Educational workshops focused on a variety of policy issues and concerns for communities; safe transportation of hazardous materials, computers in the town hall, federal financing of rural transportation, cutting costs of local government, and funding programs for community development.

Mrs. Polley joined in ceremonies to honor national and local leaders. The association named Sen. James A. McClure, Idaho, and Representatives Frank Horton and Ted Weiss, both of New York, its Legislators of the Year. These members of Congress have given leadership and support to top priority legislation for towns and townships; equity in the Payments in Lieu of Taxes program, re-authorization of the general revenue sharing program and representation on the U.S. Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, the association noted.

Throughout the years, the National Association of Towns and Townships has honored local leaders. This year the association presented Gerald E. Stetzel, chairman of the Empire Township (Minnesota) Board, its newly-named Dave Durenberger Leadership Award. Stetzel's noteworthy achievements in, and unselfish contributions to, his community were shown appreciation by the associations board and members. Durenberger, a senator from Minnesota and avid supporter of local government, presented the award and accepted a citation naming the award after him.

Mrs. Polley is a member of the Illinois Township Officials. The state group is a member of the National Association of Towns and Townships, which across the country.

represents local government officials from more than 13,000 small communities and townships, which across the country.

Blue law defeat shouldn't hurt

It was not necessarily good news for this area yesterday when the St. Louis Board of Aldermen voted 21-4 to allow Sunday sales in downtown St. Louis, but the impact will probably not be known for some time.

Undoubtedly, the Missouri "blue laws" in effect since 1825 had a positive effect on the growth of the Illinois portion of the metropolitan area. Certainly, the influx of Missouri shoppers to Illinois on Sundays played an important part in the development of such shopping centers as St. Clair Square and Alton Square. Many Missouri license plates can be seen outside Granite City area business places.

Still, shoppers are creatures of habit. If they have been coming to Illinois to shop on Sundays for many years, they obviously enjoy it and are not likely to change their habits too rapidly.

Our spacious parking lots and nice business places are bound to be more appealing to many St. Louis county residents than the crowded downtown St. Louis area and its parking garages.

Time will tell what the impact of downtown St. Louis sales on Sundays will be, but we don't expect a drastic change.

No tears for the slurry pipeline

Shipping could be this community's middle name, what with the presence of principal highways, the proximity of the mighty Mississippi River and the existence of nationally significant railroad yards and corridors.

Rail activity has double impact here, taking into account the well-equipped but currently idle American Steel Foundries plant, a key producer of freight car components.

All of which means that no tears will be shed locally over the 235-182 vote in the U. S. House of Representatives against legislation that would have given coal slurry pipeline developers the right of federal eminent domain.

Property condemnation has its rightful place. Uncle Sam, states, cities and certain other governmental bodies can acquire privately-owned sites and either pay an agreed-upon amount or a price set by jurors.

To give coal shippers similar power would have been an extreme step, unjustified by the facts. Some savings were projected in linking western coal fields to south and southwest markets, eliminating the need to ship on trains or barges. One of the proposed slurry lines would have reduced the need for Southern Pacific rail service from Arizona to Nevada.

Railroads collectively earn about $5.9 billion a year hauling coal, and could have lost half of that volume to slurry lines, which mix pulverized coal with water.

Aside from the competitive effect on traditional freight carriers, the slurry plan would have had a devastating effect on water rights.

Granite City and its environs have no supply worries due to being located along the "father of waters." But diversion of water from the Missouri River and other arteries as they wander through a series of otherwise barren states could have caused a real calamity for farmers and others. The presence or absence of water has life or death meaning for countless communities.

Arizona is plagued by too much water this week, suffering severe loss of life and property from flooding. But it and many other states lack a dependable, year in and year out, source. What little they do have should not be diminished.

For many reasons, there is no sorrow over the decision made by Congress.

Parents have responsibility too

In recent months nationally, newspapers, editorial writers and particularly cartoonists have been particularly rough on teachers and school officials, citing recent federal statistics that the quality of education of children is slipping behind that of other countries.

We feel it is time to shift the burden somewhat. While we have not been completely happy with the teacher retention methods here, we do feel we have a staff of excellent teachers in the Quad-City area who do their best each day to teach children.

Some of the blame for the quality of education slipping has to go to the parents. It is up to the parents to begin educating their children even before they begin kindergarten. Letting them watch "Sesame Street" is not enough.

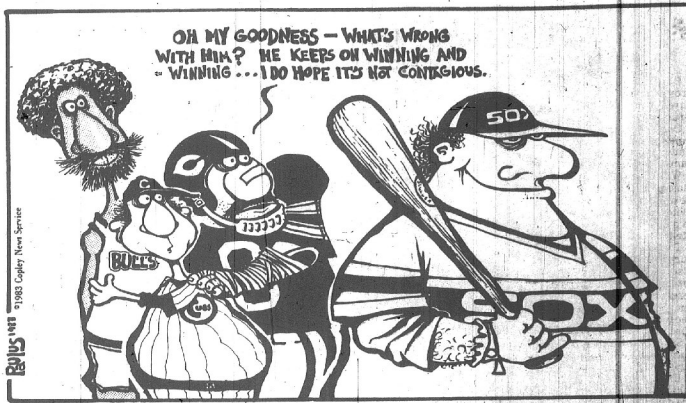

After the student begins school, help with the homework, interest in the school activities, proper reactions to bad grades or a teacher's warning can play an important part in keeping a child on the right track.

Teachers tell us of children who come to school hungry, dirty, sleepy and some even on drugs or alcohol. A child cannot learn properly with any of these impediments.

Certainly, in these times of divorce, working mothers, workaholic fathers, drug and alcohol abuse and general strains on the family unit, many children start at a disadvantage. It is even more important that these children receive help in the home, as well as at school.

Perhaps we are old fashioned, but it seems many students would do better if their parents would set bed times, see that children eat breakfast, help them with their homework and take a little more interest in their school.

Let's not blame it all on the teachers. In these days of larger classrooms, teachers would have a full-time job even if every student was properly prepared at home before the school bell sounds each morning.

Skip Watson, Granite City

"The main reason the Cardinals didn't make it this year was because they had big heads. Every time I turned on the television, I saw a Cardinal advertising Colman bread or Pizza Hut bags. Those players probably got bean-coup money for those commercials too. So now they don't care how well they do because they've already got their money. I don't think athletes should mix their athletic ability with acting. Let the actors do the commercials."

"I think the Cardinals lost because of bad starting pitching and Bruce Sutter. Sutter wasn't pitching up to his usual form. I was disappointed in him this year."

Mitch Abbott, Granite City

"The type of team the Cardinals have needs to perform at top efficiency every game. It's rough to get that sort of good chemistry going every year. We just had a tough year, that's all."

North Venice get-together was a good time

To the Editor:

I am a senior citizen of Madison; Sunday, Sept. 25, I spent a very enjoyable day. I know that over 200 people who attended felt the same. It was an old North Venice get-together. It was cold and rainy, but it didn't keep us home. We had short visits with many old friends, some I hadn't seen in 30 years. People came from Missouri, Northern Illinois and Arkansas. Many old pictures were passed around for people to see.

A cake, which highlighted the event, in the pattern of old Blair School, was just about perfect. It was great to see everyone there. Maybe again next year, we hope.

Wants pet owners to take good care of them

To the Editor:

I want to take a few moments to reflect on an age-old problem, the neglected pet.

I am upset with people who get pets because they are cute or because their child wants one. All puppies and kittens are cute, but they all grow up and need care.

Some people feed and water them, but that's not enough. What about when it's sick or hurt? There are some humans compassionate enough not to subject an animal to this, but what happens to the neglected animal?

Animals can't always fend for themselves. If you can't afford the veterinarian's bills, then don't acquire a pet. They are only suffering when they are dumped or ill.

I had to call the humane officer today to pick up a kitten that wasn't even mine. I tried to find the owner, but no one claimed it. It has been around the neighborhood a week or so and today I noticed it was ill. It has mucus running from its nose and ears and it stumbled to walk. Now, doesn't anyone have a pain in his heart to see an animal like that? I am sorry if it belonged to someone, and forgive me for possibly having it put to sleep, but I am sure it is better that way than leaving it to walk the streets in its condition.

Please try to think before getting a pet. Be humane. Don't subject it to a miserable life. Nor give it to a happy child who squeezes it so tightly that its legs get broken or possibly it dies. I have seen a child do this.

Protests pay hikes to governor's top aides

To the Editor:

I am writing this to complain about the governor's actions in granting large wage increases to his top aides, while the low workers got less pay and there was a cut in the worker forces.

These so-called top aides were overpaid to begin with. Their increases went from a low 5 percent to high 27 percent. Their pay goes all way up to $60,000. None of these people are worth the pay they are getting.

Also I don't think the governor should have the outright authority to grant these increases. It should be up to the legislature to have a say in the matter, not let the governor act like a dictator and also push through for higher taxes at the same time.

This is outrageous, to tax the working class people and ones on pensions and Social Security, like myself, who don't have a politician to give us an increase, which we badly need. We have to pay the same taxes as the top aides getting from $3,000 to $5,000 a month, while we only get from $300 to $500 a month and just skimp by from month to month.

I live in the Mitchell area and my house property taxes are $617.37 for 1982 and I can't save enough money to pay them on a income of only $600 a month.

Minority role in state office project

The center's first and second construction phases contained bid packages relating to caissons, foundation work and the building's superstructure. In all, 25 business enterprises with minority or female classifications accounted for this package.

The state's 15 percent goal for minority representation in construction of the State of Illinois Center office building in Chicago has been met and will be surpassed by 1 or 2 percent by next year's completion, it was announced Tuesday.

Negotiations are in progress on the final construction bid package, which entails interior finishes totaling $15 million. So far, minority participation contracts and commitments have reached nearly 24 percent of those contracts.

The New York Giants won the first game of the World Series from the Washington Senators at the Polo Grounds this afternoon by the score of 4-2. It was estimated that 40,000 saw the game. Washington had the bases loaded and no outs in their half of the ninth inning, but was only able to shove one run across.

A final vote on award of contracts for construction of Granite City's new $315,417 fire station, to replace the outmoded building on 19th street, is expected during tonight's council session. The elaborate, ultra-modern station has been severely criticized, but with the contract award receiving a 10-to-5 vote on the first reading two weeks ago, final adoption tonight is expected.

Accepted to pave the way for an early start of construction.

Opposing aldermen have termed the proposed new station "an extravagance," "a show piece," and "a monument to someone or something." They believe the ultra-modern design plans should be scrapped and a less expensive building erected.

A new city-state-federal agreement under which the relocation of Broadway and Main streets in Venice is expected to begin early next year was approved by the Venice City Council in a regular meeting Tuesday night. Mayor John E. Lee said the agreement provides increased state and federal expenditures that will reduce the overall cost share for Venice to about $300,000. Mayor Lee, who has spearheaded the underpass and Broadway relocation projects since their inception nearly 10 years ago, said the city's share of actual construction cost is estimated at $100,000.

More time for parent conferences

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Plans were made Tuesday night to provide more time for fall semester parent-teacher conferences in the Granite City school district.

Conferences averaging about 20 minutes each are scheduled all day on Thursday, Nov. 3, and also to be arranged for part of Friday, Nov. 4.

With most current District Nine classes larger than in the past, it would be difficult for a typical teacher to complete his or her discussions with parents in a day's time, Board Member Dewey Melton commented.

To accommodate parents who work during the day, many faculty members also schedule early-morning, late-afternoon and early-evening conferences, a board discussion brought out. Even so, more than one day is needed, Board Member Tom Miosky observed.

Saying it is "tough" to fit in a large number of conferences in a day's time, Supt. B.J. Davis noted that the district is limited to two such days a year and that the spring semester conferences are set for March 22.

Melton said it might be possible to hold both 1983-84 conference days in the fall and none in the spring, since there is less need for such meetings in the spring semester.

Warren Collins, administrative assistant for elementary education, noted that in some cases the spring conference dwells on the pending retention of a pupil to repeat a year's studies.

Miosky noted that district attendance has been scheduled for Friday,

Dec. 23, and Monday, Feb. 13, institute-workshop days which pupils will not attend, and said it might be possible to include some parent conferences on those days.

Collins said 30-day advance clearance with the State Board of Education is required for institute plans, and Miosky said he opposes rigid adherence to the state's wishes in such matters.

Melton agreed that the district needs some flexibility and concluded that, in some dealings with governmental agencies, it is better to do what one thinks best and then "seek forgiveness, not permission."

Miosky termed some state requirements "illogical" and "a pain." Supt. Davis said it may be possible to obtain a state exemption if the district develops new plans affecting teacher institutes and parent conferences.

By including some conferences on Nov. 4 along with five hours of instruction that day, no new state authorization will be required, Supt. Davis and Assistant Supt. Frank Kraus said.

Melton noted that 30 conferences on a teacher's schedule could require a ten-hour day. Especially in the fall, most parents are interested in participating, he added.

Collins' proposal for the Nov. 3 and March 22 conference days calls for "all elementary classroom teachers, music teachers, resource teachers, and learning center teachers to be involved in gathering student performance data for purposes of reporting progress to parents and guardians at the close of the first and third quarters of the school year.

Data will include results of teacher-made tests, standardized achievement tests, progress charts, and samples of daily work. Objectives are to:

"1. Establish and/or improve rapport of school certificated personnel with parents in order that the establishment of school-home cooperation may contribute positively to the child's success in school.

"2. Report to parents the school's perception of the child's academic growth, social development, and work habits.

"3. Encourage—through clear communication—a joint home-school effort to provide worthwhile and meaningful experiences in the child's total educational program."

Collins added that "scheduling parents having more than one child in the school on consecutive time schedules will be encouraged."

"The content of the conference will include exchange of information, discussion and interpretation of the teacher's markings on the report card, and examination of samples of the pupil's work."

"Immediately following the conference, the parent or guardian will be provided with a questionnaire in which he or she will be asked to complete and return to the school."

Teachers also will be asked to respond to a questionnaire-type instrument designed to assess the value of conducting face-to-face conferences. Results will be tabulated and reported."

Dumping ground tested for lead

An old dumping ground for car batteries was tested for lead content in the soil Monday by Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) officials. The former dumping ground is currently covered by several residential homes located in Eagle Park Acres, officials say.

Ken Mensing, regional manager for IEPA land pollution control, said he first became aware of the possible lead content in the soil on the Friday before the soil samples were taken.

"We were notified of the situation by our regional office on Friday. The investigation came about after a (St. Louis) Post-Dispatch reporter found out the land had been used as an old dumping grounds."

Mensing said the property had been used 30 years ago as a dumping ground for car battery cases. According to Mensing, the cases on car batteries at that time were made of hard rubber, unlike the plastic covers that are used today. He said the battery cases were covered over with dirt and the area was used as a site on which to build homes.

Mensing said four samples were taken from the suspect area. "I'm confident that if there's any lead content in the soil, our samples will show that," said Mensing. He said he expects the lab results to be available within two weeks.

Initial reports were that the 69-year-old sheriff suffered a heart attack, but friends say Toffant was told it was not a heart attack and tests were being run to determine the problem.

Toffant is expected to remain in the hospital about a week and recuperate several more weeks before returning to work.

Sheriff is hospitalized

The Madison County Sheriff's Department is being run from the hospital bed of Sheriff Emil Toffant of Madison, who is a patient in Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Initial reports were that the 69-year-old sheriff suffered a heart attack, but friends say Toffant was told it was not a heart attack and tests were being run to determine the problem.

Toffant is expected to remain in the hospital about a week and recuperate several more weeks before returning to work.

Venice cable TV project underway

After more than a year of haggling, disappointment and frustration, persons residing in the vicinity of Bissell and Klein Streets, Venice, today can see the start of a cable television system for the community.

Installation of an underground cable system began this morning near the Bissell Street Apartments complex, an area which has been cleared for the necessary trenching work by local utility firms, it was learned.

Sun Cable System, part of the CATV Systems and Associates Co., of Tallahassee, Fla., was granted the cable TV franchise for the City of Venice this summer after several attempts had been made to reach agreement with various companies.

Conferences to aid cities seeking enterprise zones

Two conferences to explain how to apply for Enterprise Zone status for 1984 will be conducted Oct. 11 in Springfield and Oct. 13 in Chicago. The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) announced Wednesday.

Under state legislation, Enterprise Zones are designated to spur economic development in depressed areas by providing tax and regulatory relief to those who establish or expand a business in that area. By law, Illinois can designate eight such zones per year through 1988.

Earlier this year Governor James R. Thompson declared parts of seven municipalities throughout the state as Enterprise Zones. DCCA Director Michael T. Woelfler said, "Already investments in these areas have totaled over $30 million and some 300 jobs have been created."

Illinois' first Enterprise Zones are located in or near Decatur, Canton, Joliet, East St. Louis, Rockford, Peoria and Chicago. The zones can vary in size from one-half to 10 square miles and may retain their status for up to 20 years.

The conferences will instruct interested communities on how to apply for Enterprise Zone designation. All applications must be submitted no later than Dec. 31, 1983, to qualify for this round.

"Last year, we received 19 applications for this program," Woelfler added. "The proposals were diverse and, most importantly, unique to the community that applied."

"These conferences will help those interested learn what is needed for a proper application that best suits their needs and that can also be ready by the Dec. 31 deadline," he added.

The Springfield conference will commence at 1 p.m. Tuesday, at the Illinois Department of Transportation building auditorium at 2500 S. Dirksen Parkway.

The Chicago conference will be Thursday, Oct. 13, starting at 8:30 a.m., at the Conrad Hilton Hotel-Belair Room, 720 S. Michigan Ave.

Limited seating is available for the conferences and people interested in attending are urged to contact Pitch Weatherington (at DCCA) immediately at 1-217-785-4315.

STOLEN AUTO IS RECOVERED LOCALLY

A silver 1978 Pontiac Gran Prix stolen from Fairmount Park Racecourse during the weekend was found by the Illinois State Police early this week on Bend Road just east of Illinois 295. The vehicle had been stripped.

Ben Kumes, Mehlville, Mo., owner of the car, told Collinsville police he left his vehicle in the paddock general parking area.

New law mandates 'cyclist training'

A new driver safety law for motorcycles has been signed by the governor, according to the bill's sponsor, State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

House Bill 1844, which takes effect Jan. 1, 1984, states that persons under age 18 must complete a motorcycle training course approved by the Illinois Department of Transportation before they can receive a motorcycle driver's license, Wolf explained.

"As a member of the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission, we studied the ever-increasing use of motorcycles," Wolf said. "We discovered that many persons, especially those under 18, were driving these vehicles without any formal training. Those young drivers were involved in many accidents which they could have avoided, had they had proper training."

"Under my bill, young drivers will now have to pass a Department of Transportation-approved course before they can receive their motorcycle licenses, which will be good for one year," Wolf added.

"Motorcycles are a convenient means of travel that can save time and gas. However, they leave drivers more vulnerable than other vehicles. The increased risk of injury requires cycle operators to be even more safety conscious," Wolf said.

"I am pleased the governor realizes the importance of mandating training for these young drivers."

Find youth lying alongside tracks

Seeing a person lying alongside the railroad tracks near the 5th Street crossing during the weekend, T. J. Roberts of Clinton, Ill., an Illinois Central Gulf engineer, halted the northbound train and the switchman went back and picked up an injured 15-year-old Granite City youth, taking him into the caboose.

Railroad detectives notified Granite City police, who said the youth appeared to be intoxicated and had suffered a leg injury and a cut over his right eye.

The youth had been drinking wine with friends when a fight started and he was beaten, he told police. He declined to say where or with whom he had been drinking.

The youth was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and his mother was notified.

GC Center blood drive Wednesday

Each day, the St. Louis area Red Cross needs 900 units of blood to meet its daily needs. Blood is used for surgical patients, transfusions and other vital medical procedures.

To help the Red Cross meet its needs, students of Granite City Center of Belleville Area College are being asked to donate blood on Wednesday, Oct. 12, in Room 540 of the center. Donations will be taken from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

"We need many donations from healthy people," said Tom Ptacek, assistant director of public relations for the St. Louis area Red Cross. "Our requirements are huge for our area. Hospitals require blood for surgical and emergency needs and to treat such diseases as leukemia, hemophilia, and anemia."

Donations of blood have dropped about 5 percent in St. Louis because of the scare over AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome). However, Red Cross officials strongly emphasize that donors of blood cannot contract AIDS by donating their blood.

To combat the AIDS scare, the Red Cross has launched an advertising campaign featuring Ozzy Smith, shortstop of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals; Pat Tilley, wide receiver of the St. Louis Football Cardinals; and Norm Stewart, head basketball coach of the four-time defending Big Eight Conference champion University of Missouri Tigers.

The campaign is called "The Red Cross Livesaving Team."

Potential donors must be 17 years or older, weigh no less than 105 pounds, and be in good general health. Persons are ineligible if they have had hepatitis, epilepsy or sickle cell anemia; if they have had a history of cancer, heart or kidney disease; if they are jaundiced, or if they have had malaria or traveled from a malarial area.

Crossroads lights finally repaired

Rebuilding from the May 1 tornado in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center is nearing completion. Central Hardware, heavily damaged by the tornado, is scheduled to reopen later this month and will be the last step in rebuilding of the shopping center.

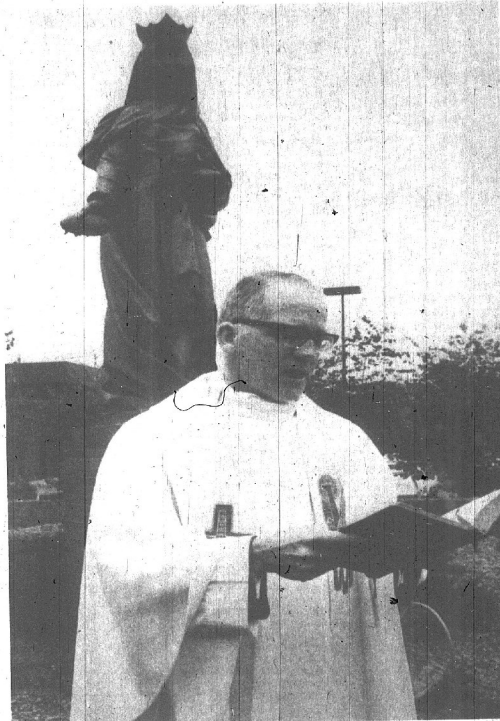

The lighting in the center's parking lot was completely restored Monday night for the first time since the storm.

Paul Crake of the the Namewick-Crossroads Association said Tuesday that the tornado caused wiring problems and destroyed many lights, which had to be ordered and took a long time to receive. "We were sorry for the inconvenience" and the length of time it took to repair all the lights, Crake

Wolf praises signing of the Good Samaritan cleanup bill

Qualified persons who offer their help in cleaning up an accident involving hazardous materials will no longer be in danger of a lawsuit, according to State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), sponsor of the recently-signed bill correcting that problem.

OFFER COURSE ON POIL FENCING

A course titled "Fundamentals of Poil Fencing" will be offered at SIUE. The course is open to SIUE students, staff and faculty, and to members of the community without charge.

Registration will be held from 6:45 to 7 p.m., Monday, Oct. 10, in Room 3128 in Building III on the SIUE Campus. Registration will be limited. The course will begin on Monday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m. and will continue for 10 consecutive weeks on Monday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in Room 3128, Building III.

The instructor will be Dr. Robert T. Schopp, professor of physiology at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine. For more information, interested persons may call 1-463-3961.

law will allay their fears and make dealing with accidents involving hazardous materials easier for all of us," Wolf said.

"When you consider the thousands of categories and millions of shipments of hazardous materials shipped daily, the possibility of accidents cannot be ignored," Wolf said. "Previously, if an industry expert saw such an accident and offered his services in the clean-up effort, he was often sued because of the accident's consequences."

"Now that the governor signed my bill, industrial 'good samaritans' who agree to help the clean up effort, and who do not do so negligently or recklessly, will be granted immunity from liability stemming from their aid," Wolf added.

"This new law is patterned after the Good Samaritan laws for doctors who offer assistance in times of need. Similar legislation for hazardous materials already has been established in 10 other states."

"As our world becomes increasingly technical, the by-products of some of our discoveries are unfortunately hazardous. They must be dealt with care. When accidents happen, industrial experts must not be afraid to do their jobs. I know this new

Hartigan, Thompson urge spent-fuel rules

Governor James R. Thompson and Attorney General Neil Hartigan have sent a letter to the chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission asking that the NRC take additional precautions in shipment of spent nuclear fuel in Illinois.

"We are aware of the extensive regulations by the U.S. NRC regarding design and testing of the shipping casks and provisions regarding safety during transport."

"However, we feel that such a large number of shipments in a relatively short time dictates additional precautions," Thompson and Hartigan said jointly in their letter to Chairman Nuccio Palladino.

Thompson has ordered the Illinois Department of Nuclear Safety and the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement to inspect shipments of spent fuel originating in Illinois and to escort all such shipments moving across Illinois, irrespective of origin.

"The large number of shipments that originate, pass through or terminate in Illinois during the next 12 months will place heavy demands on our ability to continue inspecting and escorting the shipments. Yet, we believe such actions are necessary to assure the public safety," the letter said.

The letter, which noted that the NRC has prime authority and responsibility for regulation of such shipments, requested that the commission implement the following additional precautions:

1. Perform thorough inspections of all shippers, carriers and receivers involved in these shipments to ensure that they have adequate written procedures, equipment and trained personnel to properly handle a large number of shipments.
2. Perform pre-transport inspections of all spent-fuel or empty cask shipments scheduled to start, cross or enter Illinois.
3. Require armed security to escort shipments at all times during transit through Illinois.
4. Assure emergency response capability which can be delivered to local jurisdictions through which shipments will go.

Governor proclaims Arts Week in Illinois

This week has been named as Arts Week in Illinois by Governor James R. Thompson in an effort to highlight the arts in communities around the state.

"The lives of all in Illinois are enriched by the art that surrounds us in our everyday environment, the art that is part of our history and the art of faraway places," the governor said in his proclamation.

"The arts in Illinois are deserving of recognition and support so that they may continue to flourish in abundant variety," he said. "I urge all citizens and community leaders to join in acknowledging the importance of art to our overall well-being and celebrate this unique treasure."

Arts Week activities have provided a catalyst for continuous and innovative arts programming in many communities throughout the year. Arts Week, Thompson said, increases communication between cultural institutions and helps create new opportunities for arts programming by participating organizations.

In previous years, Arts Week participants have included local arts councils, individual artists, arts organizations, businesses, schools and park districts. Events around the state have been planned and persons with suggestions or ideas for the week are being encouraged to contact their local arts council.

For more information on Arts Week in Illinois, interested persons may contact Mimi Mosgers, Arts Week Coordinator for the Illinois Arts Council, 111 N. Wabash, Suite 1000, Chicago 60602, or call 1-312-793-6750.

Attorney general active on utilities, environment

The office of the Illinois attorney general, as chief legal officer of the state, is changing to meet the responsibilities of new trends in law, State Comptroller Roland W. Burris has reported.

Currently, the office is structured to address five major areas of responsibility — general support service, governmental representation, public representation, criminal justice and inheritance tax, Burris said. With the repeal of the inheritance tax and increased needs in public representation, a shift in responsibilities has begun.

The comptroller's regular monthly fiscal report contains an overview of the office that is mandated to uphold the Illinois Constitution, statutes and common law.

In addition, Burris outlined rising utility prices and what may be in store for the future as utilities decide if coal or nuclear is the fuel for them.

The regular report on the state's fiscal condition pointed to a general improvement in fiscal 1984 revenues due in part to an increase in the state income tax.

The overall fiscal condition is still described as far from healthy, since the state is required to pay back $200 million it borrowed from the private sector to bolster the general funds balance.

Here are some of Burris' key findings on the office of attorney general:

— The attorney general is responsible for providing legal representation and advice to other state officers and agencies, as well as being the legal representative for all Illinois citizens.

Expenditures for attorney general operations in fiscal 1983, not including September lapse spending, totaled $17.3 million. This was an increase of $3 million, or more than double the spending of $8 million in fiscal 1974.

— Legal professionals are the backbone of the office and personal services account for the largest percentage of spending.

Personal service costs increased $6.3 million, or more than doubled from $5.7 million in fiscal 1974 to $12 million for most of fiscal 1983.

The growth was due to bigger salaries. For example, a beginning attorney earned $12,000 annually in fiscal 1974 compared to $17,500 in fiscal 1983.

The second largest expenditure is for contractual services, such as outside attorneys and environmental and public utility experts.

Over the decade, nearly every major function in the attorney general's office has experienced growth because of expanded duties and higher costs. The first area of responsibility, support services, consists of the Administrative Division, Building Division and Investigative Division.

General support services for fiscal 1983 through August cost $2.9 million, up $2 million or 3.3 times expenditures of $900,000 in 1974.

— Governmental representation is the second area of responsibility, with seven divisions. Their responsibilities include representation for the state of Illinois, its officials, agencies and employees, prosecuting welfare fraud, recovering payments, representing the state against workmen's compensation claims, and rendering opinions on legal questions involving official government duties.

Governmental representation increased $2.7 million or 2.1 times from $2.3 million in 1974 to $5 million for 1983.

— In public representation, six divisions have been established to protect the public interest. Largest of these is the Consumer Protection Division, responsible for protecting the buying public from fraud and deceptive practices.

The Environmental Law Division represents the EPA and the public in efforts to reduce pollution.

The Public Utilities Division, created in 1982, is responsible for enforcement of the Illinois Public Utilities Act and establishing testing procedures to review requested rate hikes.

Spending for public representation for nearly all of fiscal 1983 amounted to $3.6 million, more than double the $2.3 million in 1974.

— The criminal justice area has had four divisions over the decade involved in providing assistance to all of the county state's attorneys, arguing criminal appeals and investigating claims under the Illinois Crime Victims Compensation Act. Spending rose $1.3 million from $400,000 in 1974 to $1.7 million in 1983.

— The Inheritance Tax Division administers Illinois inheritance tax laws, and the assessment and collection of inheritance taxes for the state.

But with the repeal of the tax on Jan. 1, 1983, the functions and staff requirements for this division were reduced. The only tax to be collected is an estate tax, with revenues from this source greatly reduced.

— Total employees in the attorney general's office decreased from 688 to the end of 1974 to 663 employees at the end of 1983. The number reached a peak of 767 in 1980, but with the repeal of the inheritance tax the employee count dropped.

— Summary: As chief legal counsel for the state and its citizens, Attorney General Neil Hartigan has a full-time staff of more than 500 and expenditures topping $17 million for operations of the office. With changes in law, some functions of the attorney general's office are becoming less important and others are taking on additional responsibilities, particularly in the areas of public utilities and the environment.

GC man charged DUI in Venice

John M. Overturf, 29, of 106 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested during the weekend in Venice and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and careless driving.

A Venice officer on patrol alleged seeing Overturf's car make a right turn onto Broadway from McKinley Street at high speed, with the driver's door swinging open and then closing.

The officer pursued the vehicle, whose driver allegedly made a U-turn in the middle of the 600 block of Broadway. The vehicle was headed east toward the Broadway viaduct, where the car stalled, but then pulled to the corner of McKinley, where the driver was arrested.

It was alleged that Overturf emitted a strong odor of alcohol and he was arrested. He consented to take a breathalyzer test and was still in custody Sunday, pending payment of bond.

CHIROPRACTOR AT DALLAS SEMINAR

Dr. Lawrence A. Shipley, Granite City chiropractor, has returned from a four-day postgraduate seminar in Dallas, Tex.

Dr. Shipley, along with two of his assistants, Mrs. Monica Dressch and Mrs. Mary Knox, joined more than 1,500 other doctors, their spouses and assistants from the United States, Canada and several foreign countries to participate in the seminar.

This was the 267th seminar sponsored by the Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation of Fort Worth, Tex., in the past 32 years, Dr. Shipley said.

Some of the classes included activator methods, meridian therapy, sacro-occipital technique, spinal touch technique and procedures for diagnosing and fulfilling nutritional needs of patients, chiropractic care for the pregnant woman, scoliosis correction, and extremity adjusting.

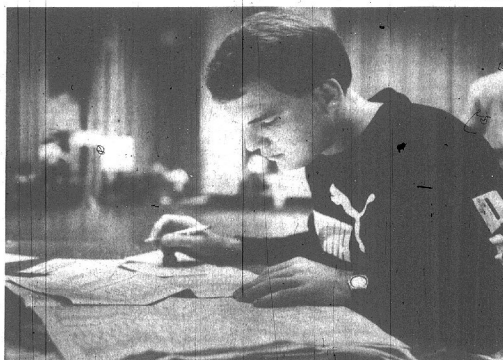

The featured guest speaker for the seminar was Van Crouch, who spoke on the role personal charisma plays in personal success.

John Menendez, a Granite City resident, recently earned a $100 scholarship award from Western Illinois University (WIU). Menendez, a senior at Granite City High School, was one of 56 WIU students accepted this fall into the University Honors Program. The new students were given their monetary awards based on their high school academic performances and scores on the American College Testing (ACT) exam. In accepting the awards, the students will take courses offered strictly for honors students that emphasize writing and provide research opportunities and individualized attention. Menendez, a freshman at the university, is a finance major.

SIUE discovers wealth of women's soccer in GC

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record
Granite City is a soccer town.
(That is hard to deny.)

The Granite City South boys' team has won the Illinois State Championship six times in the last ten years.

This weekend the Warriors will host the Tournament of Champions, one of the premier soccer events in the Midwest.

Ask anyone who knows soccer in Illinois and they will tell you Granite is the capital.

But boys teams in Granite are not the only ones that attract attention in their respective sporting arenas.

In the past several years, the girls in this steel town have gained a reputation has admitted that with the balance on the team this year, just about anyone could be starting in any given game.

Other Granite City girls-turned-Cougars are Theresa Soellner, who has been reserve goalkeeper so far this season behind Sarah; Deanna Epps, who was one of the leading scorers for the Cougars last season, their debut year as a varsity sport; Susan Bell, who Tuesday night scored an assist in a big win over the University of Missouri-Rolla; and Sue Burnett, recent transfer from Bradley University.

Recently, SIUE has been concentrating more effort in

"We would just as soon see the girls come from Granite City schools as from St. Louis. It does a lot of good. It really helps our program."

Steve Weller

SIUE Sports Information Director

for having pretty good teams, too. And right now, on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, no fewer than nine Granite City girls are playing for the Cougars.

But unlike the boys' teams in Granite City, the girls have not had the benefit of organized soccer on the high school level. They have played on club teams in the Madison County League, in area grade schools and in youth leagues before that.

Just one of these clubs was the team coached by Bob Kurilla. In only a matter of a few years he has twice managed to take his teenaged girls to the national championships in Dallas, Tex. In both 1980 and 1981 his teams picked up distinctions as the fourth place team in the nation.

Four girls on the Cougar squad this season were on at least one of those teams: Deanna Epps, Susan Bell, Mary Bisch and Sue Burnett.

But Kurilla's teams weren't the only ones in Granite City to produce talented players.

Since soccer is a sport for all in Granite City, girls' teams have been competing in both indoor and outdoor soccer for some time.

One thing all of the girls have in common is that they have been playing soccer for a number of years, most of them starting when they were but eight or nine years old.

Presently, five of the starters for the Cougars are from Granite City: Lisa Sarich (in goal), Mary Bisch (midfielder), Deanna Epps (forward), Susan Buenger (back), and Trish Atkinson (midfielder). But coach Stark recruiting local athletes, Steve Weller, the Sports Information Director, explained his feelings about signing more local talent.

"We would just as soon see the girls come from Granite City as from St. Louis," he said. "It does a lot of good. It really helps our program."

Now, nine players out of 16 hail from Granite City.

Because of the lack of scoring this season, coach Lori Stark has been shuffling the lineup around. Many Granite City girls have been moved from positions they have played for years.

Sometimes the positions do not have the same prestige, but they realize it is for the benefit of the team.

Susan Buenger, who has a Smurf keyring which says, "I'd rather play soccer," said she views her move from forward last year to back this year as being for the good of the team.

"I wish I had to do as a team player," she said. "I do what the team needs me to do." Buenger plays soccer year round and during the off season plays indoors at Soccer for Fun.

And it's now beginning to look as if the Cougars are coming closer to solving their scoring problems. Tuesday night in a rain-soaked field in Rolla, Mo., the girls beat a tenacious and highly regarded University of Missouri, 2-1. Last week the Cougars hosted their first tournament ever and won their home opener, 6-0, over Lindenwood College.

The next day they lost a 3-2 heart-breaker to the fifth-ranked team in the nation, the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Jennifer Boyer, a junior from Granite City South, has also had to make a change: from forward to back.

"I grew up playing forward," she said. "But now that I'm back there I enjoy it." Boyer wants to learn more about the game. With her English and secondary education majors, she hopes to teach and coach girls' soccer in high school.

Boyer, who did not go to school directly after high school, worked for two years before deciding to attend SIUE. When she decided to attend school two years ago, she played as a freshman on the girls' soccer team when it was only club sport at the university. She says she thinks many of the guys who watch them play think their game is different from the men's.

"They probably think that some of the girls out there don't play as hard as the guys," she said. "But they do. They use their bodies to block and shoot just like the guys." And anyone who has seen and heard a shot ring off the goal post in one of the girls' games can attest to that.

Another face and name that is familiar among Granite City sports fans is that of Trish Atkinson, who played both volleyball and basketball for Granite City North throughout high school.

Epps is from a soccer family. With her father and two older sisters having played the game, it was only natural for her to follow in their athletic footsteps. And Atkinson is also pursuing a grueling career field: engineering.

Perhaps one of the most talented pure female athletes on any of the SIUE teams is Mary Bisch. Bisch graduated from Granite City South where she ran cross country and track. Stark plans on her running track for SIUE also.

"Because of Mary's good physical condition," Stark said, "she has been playing more at midfield than up front."

But Bisch is not the only multi-talented Granite City girl on the Cougars' roster. Junior Deanna Epps was originally recruited by SIUE to play field hockey, but when the team was dropped from the athletic roles of the university, she quickly adapted to her second love, soccer.

Epps was the one who got the Cougars over the long, dry spell that was the beginning of the season. "She got the monkey off our back," Stark said.

Last year she was the Cougars' second leading scorer and led the team in assists.

And where's a soccer team without that athlete with the big heart. This year it's Lisa Sarich, the six-foot sophomore goalkeeper who separated her shoulder early in the season and was supposed to miss the first six weeks of play.

According to Stark, "She wanted to come back real bad," and went to the training room three and four times a day to work herself back into shape.

"She's probably the No. 4 or 5 goalkeeper in the region," said Stark. "She's got good size and she's still learning."

Playing behind another goalkeeper isn't fun. Sitting the bench never is, but it is an experience Theresa Soellner, a freshman from Granite City South is learning to handle. "She's improving her goalkeeping technique," Stark said of the young computer science major.

"She is starting to feel more comfortable with the collegiate game."

Susan Bell is playing in her first season at SIUE, having originally attended Eastern Illinois University and then transferring to Lindenwood. Upon her transfer to SIUE last fall, she was required to sit out a year before becoming eligible to play for the varsity.

"Sue is a very steady player," Stark said of the junior nursing major. "She is very important to us in the transition game."

The newest Cougar on the team is Sue Burnett. Earlier this year, Burnett was attending school at Bradley University and decided to transfer. Burnett said Bradley was much more expensive than SIUE and the schools had comparable nursing programs, her chosen career field. Burnett also does not have a girls' soccer program. Consequently, Burnett is eligible immediately to play.

She has seen only limited playing time this season but hopes to break into play once she proves herself.

All of the young women attending SIUE this year and playing the sport they love are outstanding athletes, and students, with goals in college ranging from health education to physical education; from nursing to engineering.

With no professional leagues to work towards, the time they spend playing soccer is given only for the pure love of sport, a precept nearly outdated.

So when SIUE searches for talented athletes it can always rely on "The Granite City Connection."

How could it go wrong?

Western is starting only one senior this season. Four juniors, two sophomores and six freshmen are doing the majority of the playing for Western this year.

Menendez, a freshman midfielder for the Leathernecks, has scored a goal and an assist this season and has been named the player of the week two weeks ago. Grote and Menendez are both starting fullbacks this year and have yet to score.

Branding, a freshman goalkeeper, has started two games and played in three others and has given up an average of 2.9 goals per game. Branding shares time with Tom Kovac, a junior from Belleville East.

Levin has seen limited playing time as a reserve, but MacKenzie said the midfielder may break into the line-up more often in the latter part of the season.

"We play six or seven freshmen every game, and we're still doing the small things that hurt us," MacKenzie said. "I'm more concerned about correcting the mistakes we make than controlling the other team because I think we're capable of controlling the other teams."

CBC, 14-7, shut out O'Fallon, 12-0, and downed Collinsville 20-0. The only game they have dropped has been against powerful Belleville West, 14-7.

The Warriors dropped their twopenning games against Roxana and Belleville West but came back two weeks ago to down Collinsville, 10-0. Last week Granite City did not play.

Game time at Edwardsville High School is 8 p.m.

Western has the worst record of the four teams in the tournament, 3-5. On the other hand, the Leathernecks are second-ranked Clemson, third-ranked Indiana and eighth-ranked Alabama A & M.

Although the Cougars have dropped out of the collegiate Top 20, Guelker hopes the tournament remains true to form and the Cougars can be on top.

"This tournament has been known to trip up the favorite and I hope it does it again. Eastern deserves its ranking, but I hope we can take advantages of our opportunities. We have to stop Eastern's offensive machine with our defense," Guelker said.

Trittschub has been an important part of the Cougar defense this year. A high school All-American back, Tritschub has seen lots of action for the Cougars and has scored one goal and one assist this season.

"Steve's a strong competitor, and he shows a lot of talent as a freshman," Guelker said. "The fact that he has started and seen a lot of playing time this year shows that I'm paying a lot of attention to him."

Mann, who was a junior college All-American for Lewis and Clark Community College, has been used in a reserve role this season. Mann has two assists this year.

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY AT EDWARDSVILLE

Although the Cougars appear to be struggling with a 3-3-2 record, the record may be somewhat deceiving. The Cougars' losses have come to Western, 14-7, shut out O'Fallon, 12-0, and downed Collinsville 20-0. The only game they have dropped has been against powerful Belleville West, 14-7.

A Salute To Granite City Soccer

Eight GC Athletes featured in Governor's Cup

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

MACOMB — Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Eastern Illinois University, Western Illinois University and Northern Illinois University meet every year in the Governor's Cup soccer tournament.

This year, the Governor's Cup could be dubbed the Granite City Cup because eight Granite City players are playing on three of the teams this year. Northern is the only team without a Granite City player this season.

Eastern, the fourth ranked team in the nation and defending Governor's Cup champion, features 1980 Granite City South graduate Randy Derousse, a four-year starter, as a halfback, and 1981 graduate Robbie Mann as a reserve. Steve Tritschub, a 1983 Granite City North graduate, has started four of six games for the Cougars this season.

Meanwhile, Western features freshmen John Menendez, Barry Grote and Tony Segobiano, all Granite City South graduates, in the starting lineup. Two other freshmen out of Granite City North, goalkeeper Rick Branding and midfielder Brian Levin, play for the Leathernecks.

Eastern plays Northern at 1 p.m. Friday in the opening game of the tournament in Macomb. SIUE meets host Western in the second game at 3 p.m.

The third place game will be played at 1 p.m. Saturday, and the championship game will follow at 3 p.m. All four games will be played at Hanson Field.

Eastern is considered the heavy favorite to win, but Hanson Field may make Eastern's — and SIUE's — job much more difficult. Hanson Field is also the home of Western's football team. Since the game will be played on the football field, it will be much narrower than Eastern's or SIUE's field.

"I don't like it because it's too narrow, but it meets the minimum standards, so we have to live with it," said SIUE Coach Bob Guelker. "We don't like playing on a football field because with our speed, we can widen the defense and attack quicker. When there is no space, you can't spread it out because someone is always there."

Eastern Coach Schellus Hyndman agrees with Guelker. "I don't like it. I guess they're doing it to try to promote the sport more, so I guess we have to go along with it. On a narrow field, it's going to give the edge to the physical teams."

Nevertheless, Western Coach John MacKenzie feels Eastern and SIUE will be the two favorites in the tournament. However, MacKenzie also feels anything can happen in the Governor's Cup.

"Anybody can win this tournament. I would imagine Eastern is the favorite to win, but several years ago SIUE was the favorite, either Western or Eastern would beat them in the first round," MacKenzie said.

Northern is 5-3 going into the tournament and could be a serious contender for the title, Hyndman said.

Eastern goes into the tournament as the favorite for good reason. With an 8-0 record, the Panthers are the fourth best team in the nation, behind Duke, Clemson and Indiana.

The Panthers will be without their leading scorer sophomore forward Neil Swindells of Manchester, England for the tournament. Swindells, who has 11 goals and five assists this season, injured his eye in practice Tuesday and was told by doctors to stay in bed for a week.

Eastern's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Panthers' defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

SIUE's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Cougars' defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

Western's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Leathernecks' defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

Indiana's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Hoosiers' defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

Alabama's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Crimson Tide's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

Clemson's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Tigers' defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

Illinois's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Fighting Illini's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

Missouri's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Tigers' defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

Arkansas's defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games. The Razorbacks' defense is solid. They have allowed only one goal in 24 games.

In First Round Action

Mehlville falls to Warriors 2-1

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Soccer enthusiasts at the Third Annual Tournament of Champions had to wait until game three of the tournament to see a contest that wasn't a blowout. But, if they were patient enough, it was well worth the wait.

Following two decisive shutouts (see related story), the Granite City High School Warriors turned back the Mehlville High Panthers 2-1 to advance to the second round undefeated.

The Warriors went on the warpath early as forward Paul Macios took Nathan Crane's pass at the 8:34 mark and powered it past Panther goalkeeper Steve Lampen.

Macios' goal came at the right time for the Warriors, who traditionally play their best soccer if they can score an early goal to take the pressure off.

The speedy forward's goal provided the pressure release, but before the Warriors could capitalize on their good fortune, Mehlville scored approximately a minute later on a penalty kick in the goal box to even the game at one apiece. Referee tagged Greg Goble with a pushing infraction to set up the equalizing goal.

The goal, which came at 9:31 by back Dave Ott, did more to hinder the Warrior attack than Macios' goal a minute before did to spark it. As a result, Granite City's offense floundered.

Mehlville's traditionally a good team, Warrior Coach Gene Baker said after the game. "But, their goal, on the penalty kick, took the air out of our attack," Baker credited Matt Sheridan for his consistency and team leadership which eventually put the Warriors back on top again.

"It was a strong penalty kick by Matt which got us going again," Baker said referring to Sheridan's penalty kick which gave the Warriors their second and the eventual winning goal.

But even that wasn't easy for the Warriors.

After two scoreless middle quarters, the Warriors took the lead, or at least it appeared that way at first.

Sheridan, who is Southern Illinois' best bet for All-State honors, passed to Macios, who drove towards the left goalpost before shooting. His shot was deflected by Lampen. Scott Grote picked up the deflection and chipped it in for the apparent score.

Apparent score? Remember Macios who was driving towards that left goalpost? Evidently, before he attempted the shot, Mehlville's Mike Merlo, a sophomore back, fouled him. Because the infraction occurred before the goal, officials annulled the ensuing goal. It's still 1-1.

That's when Sheridan took the penalty kick, at 65:33, which put Granite City ahead to stay.

Prior to the Warriors' winning goal and despite Granite City's apparent statistical domination, neither team seemed to clearly hold the upper hand. The Warriors were racking up the shots and the corner kicks in the scorebook, but persistent Mehlville kept plugging away.

Through the third quarter and for the opening minutes of the fourth quarter, it became increasingly evident that the team which got or made the first break for itself would emerge victorious.

At 65:33, Macios, Sheridan and Grote made the break happen.

To describe the game in few words, it was physical. There were three yellow cards issued. Two to the Warriors and one to the Panthers. The Warriors penalized were Sheridan and Crane. Sheridan was carded in the second quarter for "a potentially dangerous play." Crane was issued the yellow in the fourth quarter for tripping.

The Panther penalized was Steve McCrea, a senior midfielder. Referees carded McCrea in the third quarter for "intentionally holding."

Statistically, penalties were the most identical figure with the Warriors being called for 23 offenses while the Panthers committed 24. That physical aspect of the game bothered Panther Coach Chris Werstein.

"We just weren't prepared for this physical of a game," Werstein began. "I'm all for a good aggressive game, but this was like rugby."

Despite winning their conference last year, Werstein said he thinks the caliber of the teams in the tourney may more than his team had comprehended.

"We won our league last year, but I have my doubts that we can compete with DeSmet and Vianney. I'm just proud of my guys. I think they did a good job."

Vianney, DeSmet, McCluer North win first round

GRANITE CITY — Vianney, DeSmet McCluer North and Granite City were all winners Wednesday in the first round of the Third Annual Granite City Pepsi Tournament of Champions Soccer Tourney.

Action resumes this afternoon at 4 p.m. as Mehlville and Riverview Gardens square in the first game. It's Riverview's first game of the tournament.

In Thursday's second game, at 5:30 p.m., Chamnade, coming off a 3-1 loss to McCluer North on Wednesday, will meet Reitz Memorial, the tournament's sole Indiana representative.

At 7 p.m., Glenbrook North will square off against DeSmet. DeSmet annihilated Collinsville 5-0 in the opening round.

The final game Thursday night will feature a tough Hazelwood Central team and one of Illinois' perennial tough teams, New Trier. That game is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Wednesday's opening round results include:

VIANNEY'S

HAZELWOOD CENTRAL 0
In the first game, Vianney, last year's Missouri state champion, bowled over Hazelwood Central 3-0. A game which was marred by six yellow cards and two red cards, eventually ended in a cakewalk for the reigning Missouri champions.

In that game, Jim Appelbaum, Vian-ney's senior forward, scored a goal in each of the first two quarters to pace his team to a 2-0 halftime lead.

The score remained 2-0 until late in the fourth quarter when John Revoilo, a junior forward, pushed the clincher in the net to secure the Vianney victory.

Vianney's next game is Friday at 7 p.m. as they take on New Trier.

COLLINSVILLE 0

If there were any surprises in the opening round, it was the DeSmet-Collinsville game. The surprise is not so much the DeSmet victory, but rather margin of that victory.

After a scoreless first half, DeSmet broke the game wide open in the second half with five unanswered goals.

Tom Hundell began the scoring for DeSmet at the 43:07 mark after taking Brian Donnelly's assist.

Seven minutes later, mid-way through the third quarter, Keith Knopf picked up the first of his two goals of the game to give DeSmet a comfortable 2-0 lead. Don Szydlowski assisted.

At 58:48, John Meek, a sophomore midfielder worked his way through the Kahoks' defense to score unassisted, giving DeSmet a 3-0 lead.

Nearly nine minutes into the fourth quarter, at 68:51, Knopf picked up his second goal of the evening.

DeSmet added insult to injury with less than a minute and a half left in the game as Szydlowski, who assisted earlier, picked up an unassisted goal to make it 5-0. The Kahoks, who enter the contest less than a week after defeating the Warriors, drop to 8-4 on the season. DeSmet improved its record to 7-3-1.

This evening, DeSmet will face another Illinois opponent as it meets Glenbrook North at 7 p.m. Collinsville does not compete again until Friday when it takes on Glenbrook North at 5:30 p.m.

MCCLUER NORTH'S
CHAMNADE 1

McCluer North got things rolling early against Chamnade. With just over 13 minutes into the game, McCluer North's Mike Dempster put his team on the board with a shot that zipped past Chamnade's goalkeeper.

Less than two minutes later, McCluer's Bob Butts made it 2-0 with a booming shot that set the pace for the game.

John Mosby, a senior midfielder, scored for Chamnade in the third quarter at 54:00 minutes, but Dempster's insurance goal at 77:15 of the fourth quarter sealed Chamnade's fate.

Action will resume on Friday at 5 p.m. as the Warriors take on Riverview Gardens. At 5:30 p.m. in the second game, Collinsville meets Glenbrook North which precedes the New Trier-Vianney contest at 7 p.m.

The final matched pairing game of the tourney pits Reitz Memorial and McCluer North at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

On Saturday at 11 a.m., the winner of the Granite City-Mehlville-Riverview Gardens pairings will meet the winner of the DeSmet-Glenbrook-Collinsville pairing.

At 1 p.m. Saturday, the winner of the Vianney-Hazelwood Central-New Trier pairing will meet the winner of the McCluer North-Chamnade-Reitz Memorial pairing.

At 6 p.m. the losers of the 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. contests will vie for third place while the championship game, the winners of the 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. games will battle it out for the Championship of the Tournament of Champions.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students.

300th victory celebration this Sunday

Mark up another milestone for Granite City High School soccer Coach Gene Baker. Monday evening, as the Warriors won their 10th game of the season against Alton Senior at Gordon Moore Park, Baker picked up the 300th high school coaching victory of his career.

Winning soccer seasons for the Warriors' 11-year coach has become as much a tradition to the Warrior helmets as the promise of another coming soccer season. So comes season, and so comes another winning season.

It's like the change of the seasons. The 300th victory was a milestone. But it didn't last for long. The best part of reaching a plateau is looking towards the mountain range beyond. Wednesday night, in the first round of the Tournament of Champions, Baker reached that mountain range as the Warriors provided him with his 301st career victory, a 2-1 victory over Melville. Now, all Baker and the Warriors have to do is climb.

Just as the combined Granite City High School started this year, so will Baker from his 300th win mark. And like the new school, it can only mean good... make that better... things are yet to come.

In all, the former St. Louis University standout has amassed a 301-47-29 career coaching record for a .831 winning percentage. That winning percentage, as insurmountable as it may seem, is surpassed by his own accomplishments as coach of the Warrior soccer teams.

Baker's Granite City coaching record stands at 222-22-22 for an .850 winning percentage, which makes him the winningest high school soccer coach in Illinois.

Baker's success rate is also among the best in St. Louis, the soccer hotbed in the nation. And currently, only two Missouri coaches can boast of more successful records. Those two coaches include Bob Horgan of CBC and Ebbie Dunn of St. Louis University High School.

For Baker, who coached at Riverview Gardens High School in Missouri before coming to Granite City, celebrating Monday's milestone win has been put on the back burner until after the Tournament of Champions.

Right now, as host coach and organizer of the prestigious Midwest tourney, he's all business. Festivities will follow. Although that "all business attitude" will change this Sunday, Oct. 9, no matter what the Warriors do in the tournament.

Baker, his family and friends will celebrate his

Sports on the Run

By Alan L. Geitsenacker

300th victory at "The Den," a restaurant-cocktail lounge located at 2401 State St. in Granite City. The celebration begins at 2 p.m. Everyone is welcome. You say you don't know Baker? But, you appreciate soccer and you'd like to congratulate the man still the same? Then stop by and shake his hand. And while you're at it, shake Mel Bunling's hand as well. He's Coach Baker's assistant and has been for 11 years, since 1973 when Baker accepted the Warrior head coaching duties.

And if you're not in a hurry to leave, stop and see Dave Ames, the Warrior jayvee soccer coach. Dave's a newcomer to the Warrior soccer coaching staff, but he's not new to the winning Granite City soccer tradition.

Still have some time? Don't leave yet. Standing over there is Roger Smith, athletic director, Greg Patton and Joe Fedora, administrative assistant in charge of athletics.

Over there is Gib Walsmley, GCHS principal, John Sellmeyer, winning coach of the first state soccer tournament, Tom Wyrostek, Granite City High's first soccer coach, members of the Warrior booster club and, well, you get the picture. The 300th victory party will be a celebration of Gene Baker's accomplishments, but... no, make that AND it will be a celebration of Granite City high school soccer for all it stands for — its successes and accomplishments — and for all those people who helped to make it happen.

Warrior golfers now 13-8

The Granite City High School golf team managed to stay ahead, in the win column, this week in competition Monday and Tuesday.

On Monday the Warriors gained an even split between the two Belleville public high schools.

Monday afternoon at Clinton Hills Country Club, the Belleville West Maroons bettered the Warrior golfers by five strokes, 207-212, but Granite City finished five strokes ahead of the Lancers who carded in at 222.

On Tuesday, against Edwardsville, Wood River and Roxana, the Warriors fell 11 strokes behind the Tigers, 147-158, but bettered both the Shells and the Oilers who finished 185 and 163 respectively.

Granite City's latest victories adjust its season record to 13-8.

Against the Belleville schools Granite City's Randy Thurman was the top finisher in the par 36 first nine holes. Thurman, who shared the medalist's honors with two Belleville West athletes, shot a 40.

Rounding out the Warriors' team last Tuesday were athletes who each finished the day with a 43, John Tackett, Chris Carden, Steve Crow and Mike Sturman.

Sharing the medalist's honors with Thurman were Bruce Bragley and Wayne Martin.

In action Tuesday, Thurman was again the Warriors' top finisher, carding a 37. Tackett and Frank Hayes shot a 40 while Jeff Pare rounded out the Warrior foursome with a 41.

Today, the Warriors travel to Belleville to compete in the Gateway East Tournament. Action begins at 10 a.m.

MHC boxing action Friday

Two members of the Mexican Honorary Commission's boxing team will square off against two Missouri opponents Friday night at the South Broadway Boxing Club in St. Louis.

Representing MHC in 170-pound open competition will be Granite City's Dan Mendoza. Mendoza, 1-0 this season, will meet Kevin Cox of the St. Charles Boxing Club.

"Danny seems to be more intent with boxing this year," said Merce Mendoza, coach of the club. "He's seen some of his former opponents do well in major competition and I think that's got him really enthused."

Mendoza, formerly a Golden Gloves champion, is once again eyeing the coveted championship which concludes the amateur boxing season.

The other MHC boxer to see action Friday night is 180-pound novice Dave Wilson. Wilson, a newcomer to the MHC, will enter his first bout, Wilson's opponent, of the ABC Boxing Club of St. Louis, is yet to be named.

In the club's last competition, in DuQuoin, MHC members gained a split. Derrick Bloodworth, a 75-pound sub-novice boxer picked up his first win of the season.

Chip Hagnauer, a 147-pound novice, lost his first bout of the season to his opponent of the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale Boxing Club.

Action at the South Broadway Boxing Club, which is located at the corner of Seventh and Shennandoah, begins at 8 p.m.

Stars lose pair

The Granite City Stars volleyball team lost Tuesday to Missouri Baptist College in a three-game match 15-2, 15-1, 16-14.

Sharing the medalist's honors with Thurman were Bruce Bragley and Wayne Martin.

In action Tuesday, Thurman was again the Warriors' top finisher, carding a 37. Tackett and Frank Hayes shot a 40 while Jeff Pare rounded out the Warrior foursome with a 41.

Today, the Warriors travel to Belleville to compete in the Gateway East Tournament. Action begins at 10 a.m.

The Warriors pulled off a victory in third doubles, the final match of the afternoon. Andy Suarez and Lombardi made winning look easy as they breezed to a 6-1, 6-0 two-set victory over Triad's Wendi Layer and Chris Kruckeberg.

Warrior tennis coach Dick Harmon has called his team strong of victories "great confidence builders."

"Some of these girls didn't win a game last year," Harmon said. "I think they're finding out it's a lot more fun to win."

The Warriors will travel to Alton Senior this afternoon for a 4 p.m. match against the Redwings. Their next home match is next Wednesday, Oct. 12, against Waterloo.

"Danny seems to be more intent with boxing this

In the first two games the Stars had trouble getting their offense on the right track. Lack of good serving and a strong attack made scoring difficult for the Granite City team.

The Star's Laura Harper got the scoring started in the third game serving up three points for her team. Alicia Jones followed along with her teammate, serving four straight points to give the Stars the lead 7-4.

Strong serving kept the Stars in the lead throughout most of the game.

At one point the Stars lead 14-11 and needed only one point to win the game. A missed serve got the ball back to Missouri Baptist, who served five straight points to win the game 16-14.

"The girls played much better in the last game, we could have won it," stated Coach Clabbe Briggs.

Coach Briggs was also confident her team will do better their next time out.

"The girls seemed to get things together in the last game, I think they will do much better in their next match."

The Stars lost to Forest Park Community College last night 11-15, 10-12, 10-12.

GCHS tennis team wins second straight

ST. JACOB — The Granite City High School tennis team made it two in a row Monday afternoon, as the Warriors posted a 4-5 victory over Triad High School here. Just last week, the Warriors picked up their second win of the season, a 5-2 whipping of Roxana. GCHS is now 3-6 on the season.

Things started off bad for the Warriors as both first and second singles players, Dina Lombardi and Sherri Outley, lost straight-set matches to Triad's Schulp sisters.

Lombardi lost to Kathy Schulp in first singles 1-6, 3-6, while Patty Schulp downed Outley 3-6, 4-6.

It wasn't until third singles when the Warriors got on track. Angela Pinkston gave the Warriors their first win of the afternoon as she defeated Peggy Halde

6-7, 6-3, 6-2. The three-set match, had it gone the other way, would have guaranteed the Knights the team victory.

In fourth doubles, Beth Suess battled back after losing the first set 6-7 to shutout Barbara Gallion 6-0, 6-0 in the final two sets to even the team slate at two apiece.

Triad managed to tie things up in second doubles action as Granite City's winningest doubles duo of Maria Parra and Dawn Schwartz, experienced difficulty with Patty Schulp and Carol Kueker and lost a three-set match 1-6, 2-6, 1-6. The loss tied the match up at three wins each.

The Warriors pulled off a victory in third doubles, the final match of the afternoon. Andy Suarez and Lombardi made winning look easy as they breezed to a 6-1, 6-0 two-set victory over Triad's Wendi Layer and Chris Kruckeberg.

Claude DuValls mark 61st year of marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Claude DuVall, who operated the former Rose Bowl Restaurant for many years at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue, will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 9.

A family gathering at the DuValls residence, 2106B Pontoon Road, is planned Sunday to celebrate the occasion.

The DuValls were married Oct. 9, 1922, in the rectory of St. Joseph Church in Clayton, Mo. Mrs. Opal DuVall, 80, is a native of Pearl, Ill. Her husband, 84, was born in Perryville, Mo.

Their son, Donald L. DuVall, of Fairview Heights, is a retired 30-year U.S. Air Force veteran. He is now a computer programmer-analyst at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville.

The honored couple has four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Navy Ensign Claude DuVall II, elder son of the honorees, was killed in World War II.

Mr. DuVall retired from McDonnell-Douglas Corp. in 1948 when the couple returned to Granite City and began operating the "old" Rose Bowl, taking over from Ruth (Mariosky) Geroff.

The original Rose Bowl was located on the site of the present Tri-City Radio Co., 3130 Nameoki Road.

They remained at that location for 10 years until purchasing the Ken Theater Building from Bernard Kramer in 1958.

The structure was extensively remodeled into the former Rose Bowl Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge, which the DuValls continued to operate together with Mrs. DuVall's brothers, Dave and Taylor Butler. The business was sold in 1968 to Charles Hester.

In 1971, the Rose Bowl was destroyed by fire and completely rebuilt into Charles' Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge. Further renovation of the exterior and interior has taken place over the past decade.

Mrs. DuVall is a former member of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club and the International Association of Machinists Auxiliary #4 and is a member of the Degree of Honor Association.

Her husband is a retired member of Local 837, International Association of Machinists.

Since their retirement from business and until recently, Mr. and Mrs. DuVall have spent a great deal of time traveling. Both also have enjoyed fishing trips and visiting family members living elsewhere.

Mrs. DuVall has two brothers and three sisters residing in Granite City and a brother in Washington, D.C., a brother in California and a sister living in Collinsville.

Mr. DuVall has a brother and sister residing in St. Louis.

'Mother's Day Out' child care starts

"Mother's Day Out," a program designed to allow mothers with pre-schoolers 2 to 5 years old have a little free time, will start Monday, Oct. 10, at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle Child Development Center.

Marjorie P. Ash, center director, said the new program will be offered every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m., and is open to all children in the Quad-City area.

Cost of the service will be $5 per day for each child, with lunch being provided.

No pre-registration is necessary, Mrs. Ash stressed. "You may bring your child on the day of your choice—Monday, Wednesday or Friday—register at the door, pay the $5 fee and have an enjoyable mother's day out," she said.

The program will afford mothers of pre-schoolers an opportunity to shop or run errands while their children are cared for by qualified teachers in an atmosphere that allows the child to learn and play at the same time, she explained.

Dugans announce birth of daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Dugan, former Granite City residents, are announcing the birth of their first child, Evelyn Marie Dugan.

The child was born Sept. 28 and weighed 6 pounds, 9 ounces. She measured 20 inches.

Dugan is currently stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Paternal grandparents are Clarence Dugan and the late Evelyn Dugan, and maternal grandparents are Mildred Carpenter and the late William E. Carpenter.

NEW ELEVATOR at St. John United Church of Christ is part of a $130,000 project to provide fuller access for the handicapped despite the numerous steps leading to the church and its meeting rooms. Pictured in the elevator, left to right, are Ruth Schreiber, Thelma Suess and Linda Sturman. A dedication service is set for 9 a.m. Sunday, first day of Handicap Awareness Week.

$130,000 elevator project dedication

St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameki Road, will dedicate its new elevator on Sunday, Oct. 9, the first day of "Handicap Awareness Week." A special worship service will begin at 9 a.m.

The elevator, completed in mid-September, is part of a $130,000 building project. The undertaking, named Project Accessibility, was introduced in 1978, initially as a study to determine the feasibility of constructing a ramp, lift or elevator to enable the elderly and handicapped to gain entrance to the church's facilities.

After the study was completed, it was recommended to build a ramp for the Educational building and a three-level elevator for the sanctuary and Fellowship Hall. After a congregational meeting to approve the expenditure, construction began almost immediately.

Funding for the project was planned by a special committee chaired by Wilbert Ginkgo. Phase I, which consisted of the ramp, was paid for by contributions upon its completion.

Phase II, the $110,000 elevator facility, is nearly paid for, leaving a debt of approximately 18 percent of the total construction cost. Current projections indicate it will be paid in full by Dec. 31.

John Relleke and Ken Anderson, past building and grounds chairmen, worked side by side with consultants, architects and contractors during the project. Additionally, Church Council President Charles "Chuck" Hasse has personally overseen every aspect of the building project.

Pastor Alan Reiter, Relleke and Hasse have personally overseen every aspect of the building project.

Pastor Reiter said there will be only one worship service, with all church members and the Sunday school department invited to participate.

Recreational swim Monday
The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer a special recreational swim Monday, Oct. 10, from 2 to 4 p.m. for members and individuals who wish to buy day passes. This swim will be offered since the schools will be closed for Columbus Day.

Teens and youths 17 or younger may buy a day pass for $1. The day pass includes use of the gameroom, gym and pool when classes are not in session.

TCT CHILD CARE OBEYS GUIDE LINES

The Tri-City Park Tabernacle Child Development Center, 3400 Maryville Road, is participating in the Child Care Food Program and meals are available to all enrolled children at no separate charge. The school has adopted the United States Department of Agriculture family income guidelines for free and reduced price meals for determining eligibility. "All children are treated the same, regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, handicap, or national origin," according to Marjorie P. Ash, director.

St. Mary's parishioners, Vada Krajnovich and Mary Ann Bunk, were the official delegates to a recent conference conducted by the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women (DCCW).

Mrs. Bunk received the group's "Woman-of-the-Year" award. The family, rural life, preschool education, the law-making process, Canon Law and the pastoral letter on peace were the topics covered by the 55th Annual Convention of the DCCW at Effingham, Ill.

The theme, "For Everything There is a Season," was presented by keynote speaker Greg Cusack, executive director of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, Des Moines, Iowa.

Another speaker, C.R. Marley, a past editor of "Catholic Rural Life," said this country's farm population has fallen to 2.5 percent and that many farmers are heavily in debt.

According to Cusack, the country must provide for a more widespread ownership of private property for the country to maintain its freedom and independence.

Others attending the conference were the Rev. Frank Kordek, OFM, Mary Krajnovich, Mary Lalley, Irma Manning and Donna Krajnovich.

Rev. Jeff Smith to lead revival

The revival will be conducted 7 p.m. daily, except Saturday. The Sunday service will be 8 p.m. Special singing will be performed each service.

The Rev. Ernest Hale is inviting the public to attend.

This fact merely highlights how blessed it is to live our lives for Christ. There is a blessing for those who love Him, serve Him, honor Him, keep His commandments, and please Him in all things. We strive to seek His approval of our dedication, knowing He is the one that we must please.

It is worthy to note throughout life how often we are affected by the approval or disapproval of those around us. It seems that each day we try to do something to please someone else. It is particularly frustrating at times to have done the best we can do and still be criticized for it.

Second antique show and sale Oct. 22 and 23

The Old Six Mile Historical Society, with Loraine and Udeli Bischoff as coordinators, will sponsor the second annual Antique Show and Sale, Oct. 22 and 23 at St. Elizabeth's School Cafeteria on Pontoon Road. This event was a first for the community last year and was well received by the many who attended. Mrs. Bischoff noted.

"This year we have a group of quality dealers bringing merchandise to sell from Texas, Missouri, Illinois and Tennessee. There will be a wide variety of items, including old glassware, chair and colored, primitives, silver, jewelry, art glass, pottery and books. This show will sell quality merchandise, not a flea market, Mrs. Bischoff noted. Other features will include a booth exhibiting costumes worn by local pioneering families of the area—Louise Willardt Hommert, Hoevel, and Shumway. A quilt is to be given away during the event.

Mrs. Georgia Engelke also will offer for sale her second book, "The American Bottoms." Mrs. Velma Farrance, with her committee of Evelyn Ringering, Roberta Crawford and Mary Jesse will have home-cooked foods and home-baked pies and cakes for sale. On Friday night, they will serve a pollock dinner to the guest dealers.

Show hours are Saturday, 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., and Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. Advance tickets for the event are $1.50 for the complete show or $2 at the door.

Further information is available by calling 876-7038 or 931-3023.

Recorders and clerks honor Vadalabene

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) has been singled out for praise at the annual meeting and conference of Association of County Clerks and Recorders of the State of Illinois. The presentation of a resolution to that effect was made by Winton L. Bigham, president of the organization, last week at the Holiday Inn East in Springfield.

Commenting on the award, Bigham said of Vadalabene, "The association feels you were the best friend we had last session in Springfield. Citing the senator's 'unselfish devotion of time to issues affecting the group,' the resolution stated that Vadalabene successfully sponsored a significant amount of legislation on behalf of the association."

It also said that the legislation "benefited the citizens of the state of Illinois and significantly contributed to more efficient operation of the offices of county clerks and recorders."

Nothing the presence of Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles at the award ceremony, Vadalabene said, "It has been my privilege to work closely with those who have such important responsibilities at the county level. Miss Bowles and Madison County Recorder of Deeds Ronald "Rink" Lucas are outstanding examples of the high quality of public servants comprising this group. I am proud to have their recognition," Vadalabene said.

'Friends in Learning' can benefit the tutor as well as the student

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

"Friends in Learning" is a classic tutoring program for children in the Granite City elementary schools, depends on volunteer women.

The volunteers and students determine there is a need for extra help in order for the pupil to achieve the level of education with other classmates.

This particular project is offered at no cost to the parents or school district and is under the auspices of Quad-City Church Women United.

Originally, the program began in October 1968 as the Tutoring Program, under the direction of Sylvia Cross, and in 1970 was led by Vivian Cherry.

Mrs. Dolores Vogeler is the current chairman of the project, which usually starts two to three weeks after school opens, thereby giving the Learning Center teacher time to evaluate the pupils.

When the program is in full session, instruction begins immediately after school from 3 to 4 p.m. any day of the week that is convenient to the child and their parents. However, the tutors must take the students (friends) home at the end of the hour, because they may have missed their car pool ride or the older students they walk with are home already.

Tutors occasionally bring a snack treat or cool drink for their friends and other times a treat is used as a reward for good study habits or something done well, Mrs. Vogeler explained.

"Anyone interested in children can be a tutor and does not have to be a teacher. In fact we are stressing friends because it is important to be a good listener and a friendly person," she explained. Sometimes the tutors play games with the young friends and the pupils actually do not realize they are learning by reading and playing.

This particular program is currently implemented at Webster School through the Learning Center teacher.

Ellen J. Voyles was appointed teacher for the center at a September Board of Education meeting. She will discuss with the classroom teachers which students are in need of extra help and tutors will be assigned to particular pupils, with the consent of the parents.

All tutors are approved by the Board of Education and any woman or man with a little free time is being invited to contact Mrs. Vogeler for more information relative to becoming a volunteer.

"Sometimes a child moves to this area from another school district that has not been as much as the local class has and he may need only a few weeks of extra assistance. However the program is structured (for a tutor) to work with one child throughout the school year," the chairman said.

The particular project started in 1968 at Washington School and continued there until four years ago, when the school was closed. It then was transferred to Webster School.

Fred Noeth, who was principal of Washington School during the initiation of the project and is now retired, evaluated the program as one of the best for many children who not only need help in specific subjects, but also need the close contact with adult support on a learning or emotional basis.

Teachers recommend students for the extra help. They are then screened by the principal and are assigned to a volunteer. Students react very well and there was never a child taken out of the program while it was involved. The parents were very impressed with the entire procedure," the former principal explained.

In discussing the "Friends" sessions now at Webster School, Principal Jim Jeffries said, "Friends in Learning is an excellent program and has brought about positive results."

The two educators agreed that, without the volunteer help, there would be some students who would not advance to the next grade and really only need a little help to continue their education uninterrupted.

Both principals also agreed that there are always more pupils in need of help than volunteer people available.

At the close of the school year, most volunteer workers plan field trips, at their own expense, for the children with whom they have been associated for the year.

Self-employed tax rate change

One provision of the Social Security Amendments of 1983 increases the tax rates on self-employment income to a point where they equal the combined employer-employee tax rate.

Under the old law, the self-employment tax rate was about one and one-half times the employee rate. For 1984, self-employed individuals will pay a total Social Security tax of 14 percent instead of the 9.35 percent scheduled under previous law.

The new law also provides for a self-employment tax credit of 2.7 percent of self-employment income for 1984, 2.3 percent for 1985, and 2 percent for 1986 through 1989.

After 1989, these credits will be replaced by special provisions that are designed to treat self-employed persons in much the same manner as employees and employers are treated for Social Security and income tax purposes.

The self-employed individual's net earnings would first be adjusted downward so that only half of the total combined tax would be counted as part of his or her net earnings.

This parallels the way employees are treated, since their employer's taxes are not considered to be part of their wages for Social Security tax or benefit purposes.

Self-employed people will also get an income tax deduction equal to half of the self-employment tax rate.

This, too, parallels the provision under which employers are permitted to deduct the Social Security taxes they pay on behalf of their employees as a business expense.

Additional information about self-employment taxes can be obtained from the East St. Louis Social Security office. The phone number is 274-4100, or the office can be reached by dialing the operator and asking for Enterprise 1-555.

Crafts, storytime activities at public library

The Granite City Public Library has begun a new fall lineup of films, crafts, parties and other events for children.

A special program for mothers also will be part of the Children's Department fall sessions.

Preschool storytime has resumed and will be conducted each Thursday through Dec. 20. Storytime is open to children 3 and older who are able to sit in a group without a parent present.

Storytime features 30-minute stories, games, fingerplays and filmstrips. The activity is free and open to the public, but prior registration is required. To register children, parents may contact the Children's Department at the main library, 2001 Delmar Ave., or call 876-0550.

Storytime will be conducted on Thursdays from 10 to 10:30 a.m. at the main library and from 1:30 to 2 p.m. at the branch library, 6 N. Main St., Village Shopping Center.

While Storytime is being conducted, a program for mothers on parenting and nutrition, among other topics, will be coordinated by Janice Bryan of the Mental Health Clinic.

Crafts sessions for children 6 and older will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 8, at the main library.

School funding, goals studied by Citizens Advisory Council

The Citizens Advisory Council of the Granite City community unit school district is studying two of the major issues facing District Nine—1984-85 school year funding by the Illinois state government, and current national studies on the effectiveness and objectives of American education.

A report on CAC interests and activities was submitted at Tuesday night's Granite City Board of Education meeting by Supt. B.J. Davis.

He noted that the citizen council is looking into points raised by James Conant in a study on American high schools, findings of the Carnegie program on the status of education, and a study titled "Nation at Risk" by a federal commission led by Education Secretary Bell.

Board Secretary George Moore said the CAC should be encouraged to be candid and "not defensive" about its conclusions on the education trends discussed in the three reports.

"Some good can come out of such recommendations," through the CAC-inspired revision of local procedures, Moore commented.

The CAC has commended the school system—particularly Ronald Landman, director of buildings and grounds—for success in preparing the school buildings for use by handicapped students this fall. The work was described as "admirable."

The district changed from 18 schools to 12 for the 1983-84 year, necessitating some reassignments of handicapped youngsters.

Supt. Davis related Tuesday night, "At a previous meeting, the board charged the CAC with reviewing the open campus and smoking area at Granite City High School."

"These topics were discussed by the CAC Sept. 28. After a presentation of the board's charge and a discussion, the CAC moved to leave the high school campus open. This passed, 14-3. A motion then was made to recommend to the board that the smoking area be closed. This motion failed by a 2-15 vote.

"The CAC recommended that the district look into the possibility of the city putting in additional crossing areas for students, and consider the legalities of possible student injuries while students are off-campus."

Another citizen group, the Granite City Citizens Forum, invited all Nov. 8 board election candidates to the Forum's next meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 24, in the community center at 822 Niedringhaus Ave.

Lee Thomas, chairman of the group's School District voters committee, said members of the organization "have expressed an interest in, and would appreciate the opportunity to hear all candidates' views and interests."

Candidates will be permitted to speak for five minutes each, followed by a question and answer period.

Board Member Robert Maxwell said the invitation should go to all candidates and technically was not a matter of business for the board itself. Thomas said he spoke at the board meeting in the hope of increasing public awareness of the candidate night.

Don Conley, president of the Citizens Forum, said the group has no political motivation and is making a point of contacting all of the candidates. He added that whoever board members also will be allowed to participate if they wish.

Conley said the board and administration have been extremely helpful in making information available to the Citizens Forum.

Cheryl Crawford

Granite City, IL 62040

"We call our health insurance, Shelter Comprehensive Health Insurance. And for a lot of good reasons. For example, we pay maximum benefits up to $1,000,000 to keep pace with today's rising medical costs. That includes doctor visits, prescriptions, unlimited expenses for a semi-private hospital room, and any surgical expenses and treatment of disease or injury. Now that's what we call coverage."

Central Hardware's annual Do-It-Yourself Show starts

The latest methods of do-it-yourself home improvement featuring more than 350 action demonstrations by factory experts will highlight the ninth annual Learn To Think-Do-It-Yourself Show sponsored by Central Hardware, Friday through Sunday at the A. J. Cervantes Convention Center, 801 Convention Plaza, St. Louis. The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

The show is open to the public without charge. Celebrities will be on hand to demonstrate their skills, including Mrs. Fix It (Beverly DeJulio), fishing expert Tony Albright and Jim Rogers, John Plant of the Huff bike race team, and many more. Experts will give demonstrations featuring such consumer-oriented items as how to fix your floors, how to fix your leaks, how to fix your walls, how to decorate, and many more new and exciting innovations to the do-it-yourself concept.

There will be a lot of giveaways to the public participating in hands-on contests. Exhibits will include chain saw demonstrations, furniture refinishing, how to do home electrical wiring, plumbing repairs, ceilings, paneling and textured wall treatments, and cooking demonstrations. Energy-saving projects of all kinds, including insulation, weather stripping and other methods of saving money by saving energy will be shown. Nothing is sold at the Do-It-Yourself Show. Items that are demonstrated at the show are available at Central Hardware stores at a special 10 percent discount to those attending the show.

"Because of the upswing in the economy, increased new home starts, people moving and generally taking more pride in their homes, our show is especially timely," said James Colten, president of Central Hardware.

Central Hardware operates 11 stores in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Local seeks to overrule arbitrator

Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743 is suing to vacate an arbitrator's decision, it was announced Tuesday.

Harold E. Hillmer, employee relations administrator, told the Board of Education on Tuesday night that the local and School District Nine arbitrated a case concerning unexcused absences of Cheryl Reed. The earned absences are the basis of severance pay.

Donald J. Peterson, arbitrator, denied the grievance on Aug. 1. Notice of the lawsuit was received Sept. 29.

Ray Freeark is the attorney for Local 743. Attorney Harold Baker is the attorney for the school district.

Cheryl Reed was employed as a teacher through the 1980-81 year and was honorably dismissed due to staff reductions, being given the notice in March 1981 with an effective date at the end of classes that spring.

After expiration of the local's 1979-81 agreement with the district, a 1981-83 pact was begun on Sept. 2, 1981.

Freeark's suit says, she is (the date is not specified in the suit) sought compensation for 30 percent of her accumulated earned absences pursuant to Section 2.2 of the 1979-81 agreement, and was denied payment. Her grievance went to arbitration and a hearing was held June 29, 1983.

The suit says, "The arbitrator denied the grievance on the basis that the new contract, 1981-83, bound the plaintiff although she was never employed thereunder and had no claim for unused absence benefits under that agreement."

It is being contended that Peterson exceeded his powers "by finding that the 1981-83 agreement applied and the 1979-81 pact did not apply." The board agrees with the arbitrator's finding.

ADDRESS WAS WRONG
Judith Perryman, listed in the last issue of the Press-Record as residing at 1504 Third St., Madison, does not live there, the resident of that address said this week.

Only 1 of 7 on board favors administrator campaigning ban

A resolution against political campaign activity by school administrators was presented at Tuesday night's Granite City School Board meeting. Nine disclosed that a Sept. 17 board election campaign gathering was attended by three administrators.

The proposal he read this week asserted that "the administrators of Community Unit School District Nine have a continuing, important function to perform on behalf of the district."

"The continuing integrity of the operating staff of the district is deemed to be crucial by the board."

"The involvement of administrators in the political process could hamper the ordinary operating of this district, recognizing that those elected to serve on the board set policy for the administrators, hire the administrator staff and have the obligation to discharge those administrators not performing their functions."

"The board has determined that involvement by administrators in the political process of selection of the members to serve on the board of this district is improper and should not be tolerated."

"Be it resolved by this resolution that henceforth it shall be the policy of this district that administrators of this district shall not become involved in the election process of the selection of the board by way of campaigning, soliciting funds or otherwise actively involved in the campaign of one or more candidates for board office."

"Be it further resolved that should the board find that any administrator is in violation of the terms of this resolution, that administrator shall be subject to reprimand and/or dismissal."

Partney handed a copy of his resolution to each board member, to Supt. B.J. Davis and to William Beatty Jr., an administrator associated with School Attorney William Schooley.

Robert Maxwell asked the reference to political involvement be defined more specifically by Partney.

The latter mentioned election funds and campaign meetings and said the definition could be similar to that of the Hatch Act, which restricts political activity by federal employees.

George Moore said the rights of employees could be affected by adoption of the resolution.

Moore commented, "I'm not prepared to consider it without further study, and without legal guidance."

Monroe Worthen said, "We don't have a policy on this." He added that the usual procedure is for policy proposals to be evaluated by the board's policy committee and then forwarded to the board along with the committee's recommendation.

Partney said that, with the Nov. 8 board election approaching, he was uncertain when the policy committee would meet and whether there would be time for it to submit a recommendation.

Tom Miosky said the policy committee has not researched the topic, and Worthen agreed with Moore that it would require legal interpretation.
